Beginning Friday, April 19, 2013 select Communities In Schools of Wake County learning centers will offer intensive review sessions for students in grades 3 through 8 during 4 consecutive weekends, ending on Sunday, May 12, 2013. Students will work in their specific grade range (and on their individual skill level) for one weekend (3 hours), two weekends (6 hours), three weekends (9 hours) or four weekends (12 hours). During each 3 hour session, students will receive:

Interactive Instruction: We will use an interactive on-line curriculum utilizing adaptive assessments to help us monitor the growth of our students in basic skill areas.

Project-based Learning: Through our partnership with the North Carolina Museum of Natural Science, students will practically apply what they have learned in a fun and interesting science-project that investigates their surroundings.

Study Skill Development: Beyond the EOG prep sessions in our centers, students will have access to on-line programs and printed study material that can be worked on at home.

Schedule:

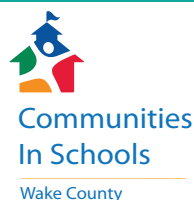

Fridays	6 pm -- 9 pm:	April 19, 26 & May 3, 10
Saturdays	9 am -- 12 pm:	April 20, 27 & May 4, 11
